Session Overview

With the implementation of the CMS RoP, “abuse and neglect” has been a topic of concern and frustration for long term care centers. In October, 2019, federal officials announced that nursing homes given certain abuse, neglect or exploitation citations would have a red open-hand “stop” icon placed next to their name on the Nursing Home Compare website. And if that was not enough, the GAO recently reported that the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) had yet to enforce several of its recommendations after a GAO report found oversight gaps in abuse reporting requirements for nursing homes. The GAO found that abuse deficiencies cited in nursing homes more than doubled from 2013 to 2018. To say that this area is going to be a major focus of the survey process would be an understatement! How do we train our staff in this area? How do we recognize and report abuse and neglect? How do we investigate? Let’s take a deep breath and do what we do best...provide the best possible person-centered care to our residents! In this session, Cat will discuss the regulatory side of abuse and neglect, as well as “common-sense” strategies and training techniques to address this specific area.
